

CHAPTER 7 : THE END (adaptation du texte original par Cyril Dussuchaud)

When I come back to England, I feel like a stranger in the country. I go home to York but my father and mother are dead now, and my two brothers have died too. Only the two sons of one of my brothers are alive.

I buy a house and live a quiet life with my two nephews. The younger nephew becomes a sailor and then the captain of a ship.

Then I marry and have three children, two sons and one daughter. When my wife dies, my nephew visits me. He knows I don't like to live a simple, comfortable life.

'I have a good ship, uncle,' he says. 'I'm going to India and the Philippines... Come with me!'

And I say 'Yes! And I am sure Friday will be happy to join us.'

And so, in 1694, I go to sea again, and have many more adventures with my friend Friday.
