Lisez bien attentivement : read carefully...

	The Union Flag, commonly known as the Union Jack, is the flag of the United Kingdom. It is composed of 3 different crosses.
	The Flag of England is the St George's cross. Saint George was adopted as the patron saint of England in the 13th century, and the legend of Saint George killing a dragon dates from the 12th century. His cross was adopted as the English flag.
	 St Andrew, the patron saint of Scotland, was crucified on an X-shaped cross, which inspired Scotland's flag.
	St Patrick's cross represents Northern Ireland.
	The flag of Wales represents a red dragon on a red and white field. The red dragon is an old symbol of Welsh identity and independence.
	The Irish flag is a vertical tricolour of green, white, and orange. The green represents the Gaelic tradition of Ireland, the orange represents William of Orange and the white part represents the aspiration for peace (la paix).
